DANGER FROM LAMPS ON MOTOR CYCLES

Commissioner West Wants to Relax Rule Regarding Them.

Commissioner West has drafted an order exempting motor cycles from compliance with that portion of the automobile regulations which requires a lamp to be attached to the rear of the vehicle. This order will go to the Corporation Counsel for opinion as to its legality, after which it will be formally issued.

This action was taken by Mr. West after a careful consideration of the subject. Two weeks ago John S. M. Zimmermann, leader of the Soldiers' Home Band, complained to the Commissioners that as motor cycles carry a gasoline tank immediately under the seat, in the rear, it was extremely dangerous to place a lamp on that part of the machine. The object of the lamp in the rear is to throw light on the license number, and the only place this number can be attached is on the gasoline tank. Commissioner West had the matter under consideration for some time when he was informed that Mr. Zimmermann, while returning to the Soldiers' Home late one evening on his motor cycle, collided with a street car, wrecking the cycle, and severely injuring its rider. Mr. West decided forthwith the danger of having a lamp attached to the tank was so great that the rule should not be enforced. The Commissioner believes the numbers will be easily discernible, in case of accident, without the lamp.

THE NEWS OF GEORGETOWN

CAR AND WAGON COLLIDE.

Shortly before noon yesterday, a west bound car of the Washington Traction Company, collided with a delivery wagon belonging to W. H. Bowers, on P Street, between Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Streets northwest. The wagon was damaged considerably, the front wheel being smashed and the axle badly bent. The accident was due to the carelessness of the driver of the wagon, who attempted to cross the car tracks as the car was fast approaching.

LOCK KEEPER DROWNED.

John Sipes, a lockkeeper on the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, stationed at Gibb's Lock, about three miles above the Great Falls, met death by drowning Wednesday night, just below his lock. He left his home about 8 o'clock Wednesday night to go down to the lock and let a canal boat pass. As he did not return in a reasonable time, his wife went in search of him. Yesterday afternoon his body appeared on the surface of the water, a friend of Sipes being the first to discover it. The coroner gave a certificate of death from accidental drowning, as it was generally thought that Sipes fell overboard while operating the gates of his lock. He was about fifty years old, and was one of the best known employees of the Canal Towage Company. His funeral will take place tomorrow.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS BEGUN.

To the great surprise of the residents of Georgetown street improvements have begun. This morning work was started on the roadbed of U Street, between Twenty-eighth and Thirty-first Streets northwest. This street has been on the schedule, and the appropriation for its improvement available for some months. It is hoped the District government will keep its street improving force here until a few of the almost impassable streets are resurfaced.
